

At Lufthous® we work to keep up, researching and developing unique and innovative products; that help make your day to day life is better, easier...

Because we know that for a product to work, the development prior to its materialisation is fundamental. That is why we have the best experts in the field and great ideas to start from.

The AIRFY Ozone Generator by Lufthous® is an example of what we commented at the beginning; this modern device has been designed so that a balance exists with the environment. In other words, by taking advantage of ozone, we contribute to the environment in which we live to become a cleaner, purer space. In this way we reduce the use of unwanted detergents, chemicals and other harmful agents.

But our device goes much further, and that is that the AIRFY Ozone Generator by Lufthous® is also designed to act on water. This application will allow you to use the treated water for a multitude of uses, such as personal hygiene, pet care and plant care.

From now on, your day-to-day life and that of your loved ones will be more pleasant thanks to the advantages of ozone.

NEW SOLUTIONS TO NEW PROBLEMS

We are living in a new era, full of changes in our way of living and developing. Some of these transformations manifest themselves in the home, where ozone generators are beginning to become a key and necessary part.

Ozone, sometimes called “activated oxygen”, is nature’s genuinely best tool to clean up the environment. Now more than ever we need the environment around us to be free of harmful elements and other microscopic elements that could harm our well-being and that of those around us.

Improve the environment around you and avoid harmful elements and bad smells.
