

LH PRESSOTHERAPY PROFESSIONAL CARE

Thanks to the latest advances it is now possible to enjoy pressotherapy from home.

The new LH PRESSOTHERAPY PROFESSIONAL CARE developed by Lufthous® is the ultimate in home wellness and is designed especially for people who want to rest their legs, one of the areas that suffers most from swelling and water retention, among other reasons.

It is important to note that pressure therapy is a non-invasive technique and its use is suitable for any adult who wants to enjoy this type of application. In fact, this technique is becoming increasingly widespread among athletes.

Enjoy a unique way and feel revitalized with the new LH PRESSOTHERAPY PROFESSIONAL CARE, includes tatami with 6 air chambers that offers an incredible compression massage with 5 different modes.

CHOOSE PRESSURE THERAPY TO IMPROVE YOUR WELL-BEING

The lymphatic system plays a very important role in cleaning and protecting our body. The malfunctioning of this system can cause an agglomeration of waste substances in our body, leading to various discomforts.

Pressotherapy arises as an alternative to manual lymphatic massage and with its application of pressure on various points of the body, it is able to help tone muscles or reduce cellulite.

LH PRESSOTHERAPY PROFESSIONAL CARE is especially designed for women and men who wish to rest their legs, as they are the most tired areas of the body, to relieve general discomfort and leg muscles, caused by swelling and fluid retention.

The operation of the apparatus basically consists in alternating the pressure and sequential deflation of the bags, thus producing compression of the limbs. The device works to give you the massage session you need, you have 5 different modes.

- * Massage mode
- * Circulation mode
- * Combination mode
- * Intensive Mode
- * Full pressure mode

STRETCHING MAT

LH PRESSOTHERAPY PROFESSIONAL CARE has a special tatami mat for stretching, with 6 chambers to stimulate the body parts and duplicating cables that allow the use of two or more accessories at the same time.

This provides a unique and effective stretching of the lumbar area, going up and work-ing up from the back to the shoulders.

It is important to note that it is recommended for adults who are not discouraged from using it. The most important are those who do exercise or perform sports activities in their daily lives.

It is very easy to operate; just plug it into an electrical outlet and enjoy its benefits.

PRESSURE THERAPY HELPS TO:

- Improve lymphatic drainage.
- Eliminate leg discomfort.
- Stimulate the proper functioning of the internal system favouring the elimination of metabolic waste.
- Ideal for water retention and tired legs (thanks to the pressure used).
- Stimulate the flow and to combat cellulite.
- Reduce the swelling of legs.
- Improve on tone at the firmness of the skin.

Scheduling of the sessions:

The frequency of the sessions is daily or at 48-hour intervals.

To increase the results it is also recommended to combine it with sessions of physical activity that provide support of the foot (for example, walking), ideal to stimulate thanks to the compression of the numerous capillaries that are in the sole of the foot.
