The world we live in depends on water, without it there would be no life.

To take care of such an indispensable element, and following a strict approach to sustainability, we have designed the OKO OZEAN PACIFIC water purifier combining technology, innovation and respect for the environment.

With this modern device, you will apply active oxygen to the water you use for general cleaning of your home (floors, countertops, bathrooms, dishes and cutlery, clothes, pets...).

After a simple installation you will enjoy the properties that OKO OZEAN gives to the water you use.

No more detergents or other negative elements for you and the environment. In this way, not only will you contribute to enormous economic and energy savings, but you will also promote the sustainability of the environment around you.

GIVE LIFE TO YOUR CLOTHES!

Applied in your washing machine, the water treated with active oxygen achieves incredible results. Every time you use it, you will be contributing to a better elimination of non-desirable elements that might be in the fabrics.

Especially recommended for people with skin complaints.

In addition, thanks to the properties that the treatment confers to the water, your clothes will look better; more intense colours, whiter whites... Also it helps you to eliminate the typical smells of the use and the dampness. No detergent, no fabric softener!
